

Slingshot

... Your callers through your telephone answering machine!

The MovieTimes professional telephone answering system can answer four telephone lines simultaneously and allow each listener to select the information he needs. Instead of wasting valuable phone time listening to messages that are not important to the caller, he can go right to the information he needs and hang up! This frees the phone line for another incoming call.

Our MovieTimes MT-4 Digital system is a money saver. Conventional message machines make the caller listen to 5 minutes (or more) of messages. This means you need many more phone lines to accommodate the same traffic that the MovieTimes can handle in 1/10th the time. The average caller spends only 30 seconds to find what is playing and the show times. Each message starts at the beginning for up to four callers. Flash memory stores all messages, even if you have a power failure, until you want to change messages. Remote programming through any telephone with a secret code.

Ask a patron in you lobby how many times they had to call to get the show times and other information. Chances are those that could not get through are not in your lobby!

Please visit our website for more information at www.smartdev.com or call (800) 45-SMART

SMART